Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in a Software Development role. As a recent Computer Science graduate from Florida Southern College with a concentration in Web Development, I bring hands-on experience in full-stack development, web application design, and deployment on modern platforms. My goal is to contribute to innovative projects while continuously growing as a software professional.

During my academic and professional experience, I have successfully developed multiple full-stack applications. Notably, I built an Alzheimer's Classifier web application, integrating a deep learning model with REST APIs deployed on AWS, achieving a 98.44% prediction accuracy. I also designed and deployed my personal portfolio website using React, TailwindCSS, and JavaScript, showcasing both responsive design and interactive features. Additionally, I have experience with Laravel, PHP, and modern database management, as demonstrated in my recipe website project.

In my role as a Freelance Frontend Developer for Minty Cleans, I translated client requirements into a polished, responsive website while applying SEO best practices and custom branding elements. Beyond technical skills, my involvement in leadership positions—including serving as Executive Vice-President for my college's Interfraternity Council—has honed my teamwork, organizational, and problem-solving abilities.

I am confident that my combination of technical expertise, project experience, and collaborative mindset makes me a strong candidate for your team. I am eager to contribute by developing scalable and user-friendly software solutions that drive results.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my skills and experiences align with your team's needs.

Sincerely,
Devon J. Pedraza
